Mercedes Benz New York Fashion week is undoubtedly the best, one of the most prestigious and glamorous fashion weeks in the world. Designer Bibhu Mohapatra and I are in agreement on that over twitter! Between walking, writing, appearances and shooting it really does make sense that sponsor American Express included in the luxury gift bags a "New York fashion week survival kit". I survived another one and as they say a photo is worth a thousand words. A pictorial retrospective of fashion week S/S 12 inside the coveted Lincoln Centre and around New York City:

17. Bibhu had a drink called the Gol Gappa named after him at the Taj Pierre Hotel. Here we are holding the drinks special list with his name on it. I smuggled the drink that the Taj Pierre good-naturedly arranged into the W hotel for his after party. Amazing combination: Cavalli and carrying a Styrofoam drink cup!

18. Toast of the town and talented editor/stylist Alexa Winner and I hung out during fashion week. Here we took a photo outside and reflected on the site of the 9/11 memorial which keeps everything including fashion week in perspective.

19. A taste of Bollywood, Abhay and Preeti were a smiling duo as they relaxed at the W downtown New York
